1. Forasmuch then as Christ hath suffered for us in the flesh, arm yourselves likewise with the same mind: for he that hath suffered in the flesh hath ceased from sin;

2. That he no longer should live the rest of [his] time in the flesh to the lusts of men, but to the will of God.

3. For the time past of [our] life may suffice us to have wrought the will of the Gentiles, when we walked in lasciviousness, lusts, excess of wine, revellings, banquetings, and abominable idolatries:

4. Wherein they think it strange that ye run not with them to the same excess of riot, speaking evil of [you]:

5. Who shall give account to him that is ready to judge the quick and the dead.

6. For by this time was the gospel preached also to them that are dead, that they might be judged according to men in the flesh, but live according to god.
7. But the end of all things is at hand: be ye therefore sober, and watch unto prayer.

8. And above all things have fervent charity among yourselves: for charity shall cover the multitude of sins.

9. Use hospitality one to another without grudging.

10. As every man hath received the gift, [even so] minister the same one to another, as good stewards of the manifold grace of God.

11. If any man speak, [let him speak] as the oracles of God; if any man minister, [let him do it] as of the ability which God giveth: that God in all things may be glorified through Jesus Christ, to whom be praise and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

12. Beloved, think it not strange concerning the fiery trial which is to try you, as though some strange thing happened unto you:

God in the spirit.
For the time is come that you may be rejoicing, ye are partakers of the sufferings of Christ; and, if this be so, glory also with him.

But let none of you suffer as a murderer, or as a thief, or as an evildoer, or as a busybody in other men's matters;

But to him that hoards what is good for himself, and does not share his spirit, nothing is at all good. But the one who shares his spirit with the Holy Spirit of the Lord is one who shares his good things.

If ye be reproached for the name of Christ, happy are ye: for the spirit of glory and of God resteth upon you. On their part he is evil spoken of, but on your part he is glorified.
And if the righteous scarcely be saved, where shall the ungodly and the sinner appear?

Wherefore let them that suffer according to the will of God commit the keeping of their souls unto a faithful Creator.
