And when he had opened the seventh seal, there was silence in heaven about the half of an hour.

And I saw the seven angels which stood before God; and to them were given seven trumpets.

And another angel came and stood at the altar, having a golden censer; and there was given unto him much incense, that he should offer it with the prayers of all saints upon the golden altar which was before the throne.

And the smoke of the incense, [which came] with the prayers of the saints, ascended up before God out of the angel's hand.

And the angel took the censer, and filled it with fire of the altar, and cast [it] into the earth: and there were voices, and thunders, and lightning, and an earthquake.
6 And the seventh angel poured out his trumpet, and there came a great mountain burning with fire; and as it were a great and high island was cast into the sea.

7 And I saw another mighty angel come down from heaven, and he had the key of the bottomless pit, and a great chain in his hand.

8 And he laid hold on the dragon, that ancient serpent, which is the Devil, and Satan, and bound him three thousand years, and cast him into the abyss, and shut him up, and set a seal upon him, that he should deceive the nations no more, till the thousand years were fulfilled; and after that he must be loosed for a little season.

9 And the rest were killed with the sword of him that sat on the horse, which went out as of a fiery flame:

10 And any person not found written in the book of life was cast into the lake of fire.
11 And the name of the star is called Wormwood: and the third part of the trees became wormwood: and many men died of the waters, because they were made bitter.

12 And the fourth angel sounded, and the third part of the sun was smitten, and the third part of the moon, and the third part of the stars; so as the third part of them was darkened, and the day shone not for a third part of it, and the night likewise.

13 And I beheld, and heard an angel flying through the midst of heaven, saying with a loud voice, Woe, woe, woe, to the inhabitants of the earth, for the other voices of the trumpet of the three angels, which are yet to sound!
