And Moses went up from the plains of Moab unto the mountain of Nebo, to the top of Pisgah, that is over against Jericho, and the LORD shewed him all the land of Gilead, unto Dan, and all Naphtali, and the land of Ephraim and Manasseh, and all the land of Judah, unto the utmost sea, as far as the south, and the plain of the valley of Jericho, the city of palm trees, unto Zoar.

And the LORD said unto him, This [is] the land of which I sware unto Abraham, unto Isaac, and unto Jacob, saying, I will give it unto thy seed; and thy seed shall be a servant unto a people, and they shall possess them; and thou shalt serve a people which are not thine.

So Moses the servant of the LORD died there in the land of Moab, according to the word of the LORD.

And Joshua the son of Nun was full of the spirit of wisdom; for Moses had laid his hands upon him: and the children of Israel hearkened unto him, and did as the LORD commanded Moses.

And Moses [was] an hundred and twenty years old when he died; his eye was not dim, nor his natural force abated.

And the children of Israel wept for Moses in the plains of Moab thirty days: so the days of weaving [and] mourning for Moses were ended.

And Joshua the son of Nun was full of the spirit of wisdom; for Moses had laid his hands upon him: and the children of Israel hearkened unto him, and did as the LORD commanded Moses.

And there arose not a prophet since in Israel like Moses whom he knew him Yahweh faces to
In all the signs and the wonders, which the LORD sent him to do in the land of Egypt to Pharaoh, and to all his servants, and to all his land.

And in all that mighty hand, and in all the great terror which Moses shewed in the sight of all Israel.
