And it came to pass at the end of two full years, that Pharaoh dreamed: and, behold, he stood by the river.

And, behold, there came up out of the river seven well favoured kine and fattled; and they fed in a meadow.

And, behold, seven other kine came up after them out of the river, ill favoured and leanfleshed; and stood by the [other] kine upon the brink of the river.

And the ill favoured and leanfleshed kine did eat up the seven well favoured and fat kine. So Pharaoh awoke.

And he slept and dreamed the second time: and, behold, seven ears of corn came up upon one stalk, rank and good.

And, behold, seven thin ears devoured the seven rank and full ears. And Pharaoh awoke, and, behold, [it was] a dream.

And it came to pass in the morning that his spirit was troubled; and he sent and called for all the magicians of Egypt, and all the wise men thereof: and Pharaoh told them his dream; but they could not interpret unto Pharaoh.

And, behold, seven good ears came up after them out of the field; and seven rank ears came up with them: and the seven good ears filled all the field with greenness. But the seven thin ears and blasted with the fire thereof looked withered.

And it came to pass before harvest, that Pharaoh dreamed: and, behold, he dreamed seven ears of corn one ear standing by itself full of ears; and seven thin ears and blasted with the fire thereof came up after them.

And Pharaoh awoke, and, behold, it was but a dream. And immediately he sent and called for all the magicians and wise men of Egypt: and Pharaoh told them his dream, but there was none that could interpret unto Pharaoh.

And Pharaoh said unto his servants, Can there be any man of wisdom and understanding in all your land? And Pharaoh said, I have dreamed: and, lo, there was a dream upon Pharaoh; which I tell them: but they cannot interpret unto me. And the butler and the baker of the king of Egypt dreamed each of his dream; each according to his own dream: and there was a spirit of God in Pharaoh.

2. Then Pharaoh sent and called Joseph, and they brought him hastily out of the dungeon: and he shaved him. Pharaoh said unto him, I have dreamed a dream, and [there is] none that can interpret it: and I have heard say of thee, [that] thou canst understand a dream to interpret it.

3. Then spake the chief butler unto Pharaoh, saying, I do remember my faults this day:

4. Pharaoh was wroth with his servants, and put me in ward in the captain of the guard's house, [both] me and the chief baker:

5. He spake also unto me, saying, I have dreamed a dream in one night, I and he: we dreamed each man according to the interpretation of his dream.

6. And there was there with us a young man, an Hebrew, servant to the captain of the guard; and we told him, and he interpreted to us our dreams; to each man according to his dream he did interpret.

7. And it came to pass, as he interpreted to us, so it was; me he restored unto mine office, and him he hanged.

8. Then Pharaoh sent and called Joseph, and they brought him hastily out of the dungeon: and he shaved him. Pharaoh said unto him, I have dreamed a dream, and [there is] none that can interpret it: and I have heard say of thee, [that] thou canst understand a dream to interpret it.

9. And Joseph answered Pharaoh, saying, [It is] not in me: God shall give Pharaoh an answer of peace.

10. And Pharaoh said unto Joseph, In my dream, behold, I stood upon the bank of the river:

11. And Pharaoh said unto Joseph, I have dreamed a dream, and [there is] none that can interpret it: and I have heard say of thee, [that] thou canst understand a dream to interpret it.

And behold, seven other kine came up after them, poor and very ill favoured and leanfleshed, such as I never saw in all the land of Egypt for badness: (Gen 41:19)

And the thin ears devoted the seven good ears: and I told [this] unto the magicians; but [there was] none that could declare [it] to me. (Gen 41:24)

And Joseph said unto Pharaoh. The dream of Pharaoh [is] one: God hath showed Pharaoh what he [is] about to do. (Gen 41:25)

And the seven good ears [are] seven years; and the seven good ears [are] seven years: the dream [is] one. (Gen 41:26)

And the seven thin and ill favoured kine that came up after them [are] seven years; and the seven empty ears blasted with the east wind shall be seven years of famine. (Gen 41:27)

And that food shall be for store to the land against the seven years of famine, which shall be in the land of Egypt; that the land perish not through the famine.

And let them gather all the food of those good years that come, and lay up corn under the hand of Pharaoh, and let them keep food in the cities.

And for that the dream was doubled unto Pharaoh twice, [it is] because the thing [is] established by God, and God will shortly bring it to pass.

And let Pharaoh look out a man discreet and wise, and set him over the land of Egypt.

This is the thing which I have spoken unto Pharaoh: What God is about to do he sheweth unto Pharaoh.

Behold, there come seven years of great plenty throughout all the land of Egypt:

And there shall arise after them seven years of famine; and all the plenty shall be forgotten in the land of Egypt; and the famine shall consume the land;

And the plenty shall not be known in the land by reason of that famine following; for it [shall be] very grievous.

Let Pharaoh do [this], and let him appoint officers over the land, and take up the fifth part of the land of Egypt in the seven plentiful years.

And let them gather all the food of those good years that come, and lay up corn under the hand of Pharaoh, and let them keep food in the cities.

And that food shall be for store to the land against the seven years of famine, which shall be in the land of Egypt; that the land perish not through the famine.

And the thing was good in the eyes of Pharaoh, and in the eyes of all his servants.

And Pharaoh said unto his servants, Can we find [such a one] as this [is], a
And Pharaoh said unto Joseph, I am Pharaoh, and without thee shall no man lift up his hand or foot in all the land of Egypt.

And he made him to ride in the second chariot which he had; and they cried before him: Bow the knee: and he made him [ruler] over all the land of Egypt.

And Pharaoh called Joseph’s name Zaphnathpasha; and he gave him to wife Asenath the daughter of Potipherah priest of On. And Joseph went out over [all] the land of Egypt.

And Joseph [was] thirty years old when he stood before Pharaoh king of Egypt. And Joseph went out from the presence of Pharaoh, and went throughout all the land of Egypt.

And in the seven plenteous years the earth brought forth by handfuls.
And the famine was over all the face of the earth: And Joseph opened all the storehouses, and sold unto Egypt, and provided food for the land.

And when all the land of Egypt was famished, the people cried to Pharaoh for bread: and Pharaoh said unto all the land of Egypt, There is no numbering; for [it was] without number.

And unto Joseph were born two sons before the years of famine came, which Asenath the daughter of Potipherah priest of On bare unto him.

And Joseph called the name of the firstborn Manasseh: For God, [said he], hath made me forget all my toil, and all my father's house.

And the name of the second called he Ephraim: For God hath caused me to be fruitful in the land of my affliction.

And the seven years of plenteousness, that was in the land of Egypt, were ended.

And the seven years of dearth began to come, according as Joseph had said: and the dearth was in all lands; but in all the land of Egypt there was bread.
And all countries came into Egypt to Joseph for to buy [corn]; because that the famine was [so] sore in all lands.
