And her father said, I verily thought that thou hadst utterly hated her; therefore I gave her to thy companion: [is] not her younger sister fairer than she? take her, I pray thee, instead of her.

And Samson went and caught three hundred foxes, and took firebrands, and turned tail to tail, and put a firebrand in the midst between two tails.

And when he had set the brands on fire, he let [them] go into the standing corn of the Philistines, and burnt up both the shocks, and also the standing corn, with the vineyards [and] olives.

Then the Philistines said, Who hath done this? And they answered, Samson, the son in law of the Timnite, because he had taken his wife, and given her to his companion. And the Philistines came up, and burnt her and her father with fire.

And Samson said unto them, Though ye have done this, yet will I be avenged of you, and after that I will cease.

And he smote them hip and thigh with a great slaughter: and he went
And the Philistines said, Why have ye done so? And they answered, To bind Samson as he hath done to us.

Then Samson took the two millstones of the jawbone, and put them in his bag in the pocket of his lукр, and went out into the wild vine country. And there came a noad from the lords of the Philistines, saying, Come down, that we may destroy him. And Samson said unto the lords of the Philistines, Shall I likewise be tributary unto you, as one of your noads? And the lords of the Philistines said unto him, We will not be tributary unto thee. And Samson said unto them, The Philistines have put out my eyes; I will have no more tribute of you; announce a piece of meat, and I will eat of it. And he told them, I will have no piece of meat; put out of my hands.
And Samson said, With the jawbone of an ass, heaps upon heaps, with the jaw of an ass have I slain a thousand men.

And it came to pass, when he had made an end of speaking, that he cast away the jawbone out of his hand, and called that place Ramath-lehi.

And he was sore athirst, and called on the LORD, and said, Thou hast given this great deliverance into the hand of thy servant: and now shall I die for thirst, and fall into the hand of the uncircumcised?

But God clave an hollow place that [was] in the jaw, and there came water thereout; and when he had drunk, his spirit came again, and he revived: wherefore he called the name thereof En-hakkore, which [is] in Lehi unto this day.

And he judged Israel in the days of the Philistines twenty years.
