21:1  Then saith the LORD, the God of Israel; Like these good figs, so will I set mine eyes upon them for good, and I will plant them; and I will build them, and not pluck [them] up;

21:2  Neither will I pluck up any of them out of the land that I have given them; neither will I cause them to cease from being my people; and I will give them one heart, and will cause them to walk in my statutes, and they shall be my people, and I will be their God:

21:3  As the good figs, so will I set mine eyes upon them for good, and I will cause them to multiply, and I will increase them; and I will set my tabernacle in the midst of them, and my mercy shall be for a cloud over it, and I will cause the cloud of the land to cover it, as the cloud covereth the earth:

21:4  And I will set my tabernacle in the midst of them, and my people shall know my name, and I will dwell in their midst. And I will be their God, and they shall be my people:

21:5  And they shall build houses in it, and plant vineyards in it; and I will cause them to have abundance of milk and new wine, and they shall be fat therein.

21:6  And I will set one basket full of figs before the temple of the LORD; and [it] shall be for them a sign and for a memorial before their God; and I will cause theinate to know me, that I am the LORD.

21:7  And Zedekiah the king of Judah, with the carpenters and smiths, from Jerusalem, and brought them to Babylon.
remain in this land, and them that dwell in the land of Egypt:

And I will deliver them to be removed into all the kingdoms of the earth for [their] hurt, [to be] a reproach and a proverb, a taunt and a curse, in all places whither I shall drive them.

And I will send the sword, the famine, and the pestilence, among them, till they be consumed from off the land that I gave unto them and to their fathers.
